Kernow Coatings Appoints New Operations Director

Penryn, Cornwall, (May 1, 2018) - Kernow Coatings, the global leader of digitally printable synthetic substrates, announces the recent appointment of Garry Hume as Operations Director. Garry joins the Kernow Coatings factory team to drive efficiencies and meet the challenges of growing in a global media market.

"I will help enable the business to diversify its range using new and existing coating assets, supported by new, patent-pending, hard coatings and specialist adhesives for a wide range of industrial and technical applications", Garry stated.

Garry has worked for Kernow Coatings for over six years as Business Development Manager. He has a vast amount of experience in the coating industry in both an operational capacity and from a technical perspective.

About Kernow Coatings

Built on innovation, Kernow Coatings is the global leader in optimized high-performance coatings for print, security, engineering and industrial substrates. Printer OEMs and leading national brands trust and certify Kernow solutions for wide format and narrow format specialized print media – synthetics, self-adhesives, colors, metallics, fabrics and much more. The company operates across Europe, the Americas, Asia, and Australia.
